

Your Promotion

You have a short time to prepare for the arrival of this new life, this gift of life. This is time that needs to be well spent and you need to get to work as soon as possible. Time stops for no one. Let's reflect on what is coming, along with the baby. First, there is your relationship with the mother to be. Then you have the commitments required to establish a home for a child. Then you have the physiological changes your partner is going to be going through. Next you may have financial concerns to think about. You may also have a plethora of other issues like in-laws, other children, and other important relationships that will be affected. A coming child and a pregnancy will change life as you have known it. You have a new assignment with new responsibilities. Birth is a test of human character, so schedule some time to learn everything you can to pass the exam with flying colors. You have a new assignment now. Yes, you have been promoted! You have a new mission.