

Agreement Is Everything

Long before your partner is in labor, strive to know her better. Listen a lot even if you don't understand all the emotions that pour forth. Stand there and enjoy the rain. These tears, these fears, these hurts and pains, they are intimacy. They join the minds and souls of two made one. The more you understand your partner and the more you can agree upon, the stronger you are together. The real bonds of love are commitment, acceptance and vulnerability.
